You are cordially invited to this year's lecture:

The Acropolis Museum in Athens: Architecture and Collections

by Professor Dimitrios Pandermalis
President of the Acropolis Museum in Athens

Dr. Pandermalis is a Professor Emeritus of Classical Archaeology at the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece, and has also served as President of the History and Archaeology Department and as Dean of the Philosophical School. He is also the supervisor of the Archaeological site of Dion, Pieria since 1973.

From September 1996 to March 2000 Dr. Pandermalis served as a Member of the Greek Parliament. After leaving the Greek Parliament in May 2000, he was appointed President of the Organization for the Construction of the new Acropolis Museum, and oversaw the building project between 2003 and the official opening of the museum in June 2009. He now serves as the first President of the Acropolis Museum in Athens.
